GREEK KING IS SAID TO HAVE FLED THRONE

General Mobilization of Army Ordered—Several Cities are in Revolt.

CROWN PRINCE IS REGENT

Whole Garrison in Macedonia Surrenders to Rebels; Troops Fire Kills Three Men and Wounds Two—Greek Gendarmes Join Volunteers and Surround Salonika Garrison.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An unconfirmed Reuters dispatch reported that King Constantine has abdicated and the crown prince has been appointed regent. A general mobilization of the Greek army has been ordered. The report, if true, indicates that Greece will soon enter the war on the side of the allies. The Greek army was demobilized several months ago at the allies' orders. Prince George, aged 26, is apparent to the Greek throne.

GREEK CITIES REVOLT.

SALONIKI, Sept. 1.—Several Greek cities have revolted. The Greek garrison at Lestara Burna has surrendered to the rebels. A revolutionary committee is governing this part of Macedonia. Greek gendarmes have joined the volunteers and surrounded Salonika garrison. The troops fire killed three rebels and wounded two. Three Greek regiments at Voden joined the rebels.

The Saloniki barracks troops refused to surrender. General Sarail, commanding the Anglo-French, intervened and disarmed and interned the regular troops. He allowed the officers to retain their swords and sent the regulars to the suburban camp, Zeitunlik. French soldiers occupied the barracks.

Macedonians Organized Revolt.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Saloniki dispatches indicate that Macedonians organized the Greek revolution. The Macedonians vainly urged the king to attack the invading Bulgars. The Greek soldiers sent home after demobilization joined the rioters in attacking the government forces.

Bulgaria's war declaration has paved the way for an allied offensive designed to crush the Bulgarians. British, French, Italian, Russian, Serbian and Roumanian armies plan to participate in the drive.

The Greek crown prince is popular. His sympathies are pro-ally although he received his military education in a German academy. He holds an honorary commission in the Prussian guard. He has participated in the last two Balkan wars as a Greek army officer.

It is easy for a woman to keep a secret that isn't interesting.

Bistriz Is Menaced.

(By Wilbur Forrest.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Roumanians are using the famous German nut cracker tactics and are pressing forward rapidly on both wings, squeezing the Austrians from southeastern Transylvania. The Austrians already have abandoned four hundred square miles. The Roumanians have captured twelve towns since they declared war Sunday night.

The Austrians are retreating so rapidly there is little heavy fighting and few prisoners are taken. The Roumanian right is menacing the famous old Hungarian city of Bistriz, thirty miles beyond the frontier. A central news dispatch said the Austrians were preparing to evacuate Bistriz.

The heaviest fighting is on the mountain front southward from Bistriz. The Austrians are attempting to make a stand along the southern border of Transylvania. Should Roumanians smash these defenses the Austrians in southeastern Transylvania would be endangered.

MEN WHO SHOOT MIGRATORY BIRDS TODAY TAKE RISK

That the sportsman who shoots migratory birds today is taking a serious chance of being brought before the courts is opinion of District Attorney Frederick Eister. The Oregon state law opens the season of migratory birds today which is a violation of the recent treaty signed with Canada and the federal bird law.

The recent treaty with Canada, which follows the federal law, is said to have been passed with an idea to bolstering up the law. The only foundation, according to Mr. Stewer for the federal law and regulation of the birds rests on the fact that birds move from state to state and are therefore of an interstate commerce nature. Several states have declared the law unconstitutional and the supreme court declared the law as such. The supreme tribunal has granted the case another hearing.

In connection with an observance of the law, Deputy Game Warden Tonkin warns hunters from shooting doves from the public highway or the railroad right of way. It is complained that many sportsmen violate the law in shooting these birds from machines. The county is said to have an abundance of doves.

The federal law allows the shooting of migratory birds after October 1.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR HERE

Pendleton for the first time in years is facing a labor shortage. Warehouse men complain that they cannot find enough men in town to make full crews at their houses and out of town labor may have to be imported. Wheat hauling is already on and by next week practically every farmer in Umatilla county will be hauling his 1916 crop to the warehouse.

John Montgomery, local agent for the Pacific Coast Elevator Company, warehouses was six men behind his full crew and experienced difficulty in hiring additional men. Henry Collins scoured the town yesterday to get laborers for his houses. Approximately 60 warehouses are handled through Pendleton offices. The streets have been fairly bereft of homes this year and labor conditions seem to be good. In Gilliam county the same shortage of men has been reported.

This year warehouse men are offering $3 a day for experienced men and $2.50 for experienced men.

NON-UNION DOCK WORKER IS KILLED

Four Unidentified Men Shoot Negro at Tacoma—Exciting Chase Made Through Down Town Streets.

TACOMA, Sept. 1.—One of four unidentified men shot and killed Tillman W. Bethel, a negro, aged 37, and a non-union longshoreman. Police believe the men were striking longshoremen. Bethel was enroute to work at the Milwaukee railroad docks when he was attacked. His assailants chased him from the eleventh street bridge to a nearby office building. Bethel fled to the second floor when his pursuers fired. The bullets hit him in the heart and abdomen. Cyril Wilson, a witness, chased the slayers several blocks.
